EVANS N. NWANKWO, CPE

When it comes to philanthropy, I have two fundamental beliefs; when we are blessed, it is a good practice to be a blessing to others, and that “charity does begin at home”. This is why my wife and I spend a significant portion of our time and financial resources, serving within our immediate community, as evidenced by our community involvements.

As a naturalized citizen of the United States and a first generation African immigrant, I know firsthand, the struggles that face residence of each African village: lack of clean water, inadequate education environment, lack of healthcare and basic economic opportunities required to sustain a family. It is these alarming statistics that compelled my wife and me to embrace this journey of making a difference beyond our immediate community.

Our experience so far with this project has been extremely rewarding. Friends, neighbors and associates have embraced this project in a way we never imagined possible. We are making a huge impact on the ground as families are now becoming empowered, economically to fend for themselves.

We are forever grateful to all the friends of NuWay that have made this, a very worthwhile project for my wife and me.

*We can make a difference, together.
One person, one family, one village, at a time.*
